

Iraq Virtual Science Library - IVSL

مرحبا بكم في المكتبة العلمية الافتراضية العراقية

<http://www.ivsl.org>

اهداف المشروع

- ✓ اتاحة الفرصة للباحثين والعلماء والطلبة العراقيين للوصول الى الدوريات العلمية العالمية بطريقة سهلة وسريعة وبصورة مجانية .
- ✓ اعادة ربط المؤسسات العلمية العراقية بالمجتمع العلمي العالمي.
- ✓ الحصول على تخفيضات تصل الى 98% اي فائدة اقتصادية ايضا من خلال الاسعار التخفيضية , وشراء اشتراك واحد من كل مجلة للجامعات العراقية جميعها
- ✓ المكتبة لاتحتوي على اي معلومات وانما المعلومات موجودة على موقع الناشر اي ان IVSL هي عبارة عن بوابة للدخول الى هذه المواقع .

انطلق المشروع في كانون الثاني 2006 وكان يضم 7 جامعات فقط اما لان فهو يشمل كل الجامعات والوزارات ذات العلاقة تقريبا.

تتيح فرصة الدخول الى 10000 عشرة الاف مجلة علمية تقريبا.

اهمية هذا المشروع هي عدم تاثره بالظروف الداخلية العراقية لانه يدار من خارج العراق من قبل المجالات العلمية وهو كذلك ليس ذو فائدة شخصية مثل البعثات والزمالك وغيرها ولاهمية هذا المشروع نقترح ادخال منهج IVSL في دورة طرائق التدريس ليطلع عليه جميع التدريسيين

نظرة على IVSL

Title

In Pursuit of the Least Luminous Galaxies

Authors

Beth Willman

Abstract

The dwarf galaxy companions to the Milky Way are unique cosmological laboratories. With luminosities as low as $10^{-7}L_{MW}$, they inhabit the lowest mass dark matter halos known to host stars and are presently the most direct tracers of the distribution, mass spectrum, and clustering scale of dark matter. Their resolved stellar populations also facilitate detailed studies of their history and mass content. To fully exploit this potential requires a well-defined census of virtually invisible galaxies to the faintest possible limits and to the largest possible distances. I review the past and present impacts of survey astronomy on the census of Milky Way dwarf galaxy companions and discuss the future of finding ultra-faint dwarf galaxies around the Milky Way and beyond in wide-field survey data.

Simple searching

To query the ELIN system you just need to enter a few descriptive words and hit the 'enter' key or click the ELIN 'search' button. ELIN will return records that return ALL the words in the query. Therefore it is not needed to add a boolean 'AND' operator to search for records that contain multiple words.

Example: to search for records containing quantum and mechanics type:

Phrase searching

Phrase searching allows you to search records that contain multiple words used in a phrase. You need to enclose the phrase with double quotes ("").

Example: to search for records containing the phrase "capacitor technologies" type:

Case sensitivity

ELIN queries are NOT case sensitive. You will get the same results searching "QuantUM MECHANICS" or "quantum mechanics". Also phrase searches are not affected by changing the case of some words.

Wildcards

ELIN allows you to use wildcards in your search query. To perform a single character wildcard use the "?" symbol. For example, to search for "test" or "text" you can use the query:

To perform a multiple character wildcard use the "*" symbol. For example, to search for "test" or "tester" or "testing" you can use the query:

You can NOT use a "*" or "?" symbol as the first character of a search.

Fielded search

You can search for words appearing in a specific record field by prepending the name of the field to the word. The available fields are:

all - search in all indexed bibliographic data of the document (default).

ti - the title of the document.

jti - name of a journal (part or exact name of the journal).

issn - International Standard Serial Number.

au - author of the document (family name first name e.g. "Klappholz D").

kw - key words chosen by the document author.

abs - a short description of the document.

year - Year field.

Example: to search all records containing "junker" in the author field and "biofilm" in the title field type:

Boolean search

You can combine words in the query through logical operators. ELIN supports the AND, OR and NOT operator. Boolean operator MUST be written in capitals.

AND will restrict the result to documents where both terms are found in the same document (e.g. "mad AND cow")

OR will expand the results to records containing either word ("mad OR cow")

NOT will restrict the search result by eliminating all records where the term specified with NOT appears (e.g. "mad NOT cow")

Groupings

ELIN supports using parentheses to group clauses to form sub queries. This can be very useful if you want to control the boolean logic for a query.

Example: to search all records containing "quantum" or "mechanics" but not "probability" type:

Year ranges

ELIN allows you to search records published in a year range by using the TO operator.

Example: to search all records containing "dna" published between 1970 and 1980 type:

Basic Search

To query the ELIN system you need to enter words in any field choosing from the drop down menus on the right hand side of the screen.

Fields

The following bibliographic record fields are searchable in the ELIN :

All fields - search in all indexed bibliographic data of the document.

Title - the title of the document.

Journal title - name of a journal (part or exact name of the journal).

Author - author of the document (family name first name e.g. "Klappholz D").

ISSN - International Standard Serial Number.

Key word - key words chosen by the document author.

Abstract - a short description of the document.

Boolean Search

You can combine words in the query through logical operators. ELIN supports the AND, OR and NOT operator.

AND will restrict the result to documents where both terms are found in the same document (e.g. "mad AND cow")

OR will expand the results to records containing either word ("mad OR cow")

NOT will restrict the search result by eliminating all records where the term specified with NOT appears (e.g. "mad NOT cow")

Publication year

By default you search in all years. You also have the option to limit your search to either a range of years or a specific year.

Advanced Search

Searching in ELIN is not case sensitive.

Use boolean operators "and or not" and "(")" e.g. (ti="computer science" and abs=network) or (au=Tom)

Valid fields :

ti for Title, jti for Journal Title, au for Author, kw for Key Words, abs for abstract.

Choose collection:

In the search screen you can choose to perform the search in a number of collections, the default collection is all.

e-Journals - electronic journals only

Ebsco Databases - The Archive of both Business Source Elite and Academic Search Elite

IEE/IEEE Proceedings

IEE/IEEE Standards

e-Print archive

ABI/Inform

JSTOR

Publication year:

Default is all years. You can limit your search to a range of years or a specific year.

Only documents available in full text:

The result set will only contain articles where the full text is available online.
